STIPULATION

Unless specifically noted by the parties during trial, the parties agree to the accuracy of the government’s transcripts of recordings played at trial. Before trial, the parties will jointly request a preliminary instruction: “if you noticed any differences between what you heard on the recordings and what you read in the transcripts, you must rely on what you heard, not what you read.” See 6th Cir. Pattern Inst. 7.17 (modified). If, during trial, a party or the Court believes there is a discrepancy between any recording admitted into evidence and the transcript, the parties and the Court will confer to determine whether the discrepancy is non-material or material. If the discrepancy is non-material according to the Court, the transcript will be admitted as an exhibit. If the discrepancy is material, the parties and the Court will confer to determine whether an edit to the transcript is appropriate or whether that portion of the transcript should not be admitted as an exhibit.

It is further stipulated and agreed that this Stipulation may be introduced into evidence as an exhibit, and that the facts herein stipulated have the same status, dignity, and effect as the undisputed testimony of credible witnesses.
